"Jack Ross, after serving his country in top-secret special ops missions for most of his adult life, has discovered that the jumpdrive, a device that allows interstellar transportation, has immense possibilities. The jumpdrive has introduced the people of Earth to planets with alien beings who remarkably resemble animal life-forms from Earth. One of these species, the H'kaah, agree to a business proposition that allows them to live on Earth under the supervision and guidance of human hosts, their 'Patrons.' This business deal leads to an incredible adventure for Jack, the first Patron, and his companion as the two species learn to live in a cooperative environment, and teaches how being different doesn't necessarily mean being unable to be compatible. and to love. The year is 2167. Richard Wells is just another body amongst many teaching self-defense courses at the World Government headquarters in Dublin, Ireland. The day of his promotion a shocking revelation threatens to set the world on its end, something that must be stopped or it will turn the world upside down. Unbeknownst to Richard this revelation sets only the backdrop for a larger conspiracy, one that would tear the world apart and banish souls to the depths of Hell forever. Following a startling visit from a man called White in his own home Richard soon realizes that not all that seems real is and not all that is illusion is as it seems. Join him as he tries to balance reality with fiction, spirituality with reason, and justice with deception. It is a classic battle between flesh and spirit, and good and evil. Even as it seems God has lost a foothold within this seemingly peaceful generation the struggle for souls continues and Richard is the lynch-pin for it all, but he first must choose the direction of a new generation. Which will he choose? Truth or reason, love or deception, life... or death?
