Scandinavia Guidebook Updates from Rick Steves

By Rick Steves Summer is a great time to go. Scandinavia bustles and glistens under the July and August sun; it's the height of the tourist season, when all the sightseeing attractions are open and in full swing. In many cases, things don't kick into gear until summer — about June 20 — when Scandinavian schools let out.

Best Time to Go to Scandinavia by Rick Steves

Hi, I'm Rick Steves back with more of the Best of Europe. This time we're traveling in northern Europe, where the mountains meet the sea — it's the best of western Norway. Thanks for joining us. "Rugged" is putting it mildly when it comes to 80 percent of Norway.

Rick Steves is an amazing resource even with the omnipresent power of the internet and I always take one of his guidebooks with me for European trips. It was no different for a Baltic Cruise (Copenhagen, Warnemunde, Tallinn, St. Petersburg, Helsinki, and Stockholm) and I read through the info on the ports a month before my trip and also familiarized myself again the day before we reached the port.

Change the world one trip at a time. In this illuminating collection of stories and lessons from the road, acclaimed travel writer Rick Steves shares a powerful message that resonates now more than ever. With the world facing divisive and often frightening events, from Trump, Brexit, and Erdogan, to climate change, nativism, and populism, there's never been a more important time to travel. Rick believes the risks of travel are widely exaggerated, and that fear is for people who don't get out much. After years of living out of a suitcase, he still marvels at how different cultures find different truths to be self-evident. By sharing his experiences from Europe, Central America, Asia, and the Middle East, Rick shows how we can learn more about our own country by viewing it from afar. With gripping stories from Rick's decades of exploration, this fully revised edition of Travel as a Political Act is an antidote to the current climate of xenophobia. When we travel thoughtfully, we bring back the most beautiful souvenir of all: a broader perspective on the world that we all call home. All royalties from the sale of Travel as a Political Act are donated to support the work of Bread for the World, a non-partisan organization working to end hunger at home and abroad.
