The federal gov;t. has increasingly focused on linking affordable housing to transit-oriented developments -- compact, walkable, mixed-use neighborhoods located near transit -- through the HUD's housing programs and the Dept. of Transportation's (DoT) Federal Transit Admin.'s (FTA) transit programs. This report reviews: (1) what is known about how transit-oriented developments affect the availability of affordable housing; (2) how local, state, and federal agencies have worked to ensure that affordable housing is available in transit-oriented developments; and (3) the extent to which HUD and FTA have worked together to ensure that transportation and affordable housing objectives are integrated in transit-oriented developments. Washington Administrative Law Practice Manual is the authoritative guide for Washington attorneys practicing before administrative agencies. This comprehensive manual provides in-depth coverage of all aspects of administrative law, including the Appearance of Fairness Doctrine, Public Disclosure Act, Public Records, Open Public Meetings, Ethical Issues for the Administrative Lawyer, and Administrative Investigations. Also included is a state administrative directory that lists names, addresses, and telephone numbers of key persons in several state agencies. This eBook features links to Lexis Advance for further legal research options.

This report reviews an Oregon research effort to develop an Oregon Access Management Best Practices Manual. In particular, this research effort develops a resource to help transportation professionals quantify safety and operational effects of various access management strategies, provide measurable criteria to evaluate these access management techniques, and identify data collection practices necessary to successfully perform these assessments. It is the expectation that this manual can be used by engineers, decision makers, and educators to help the transportation community better understand the appropriate application of access management strategies

This document is part of a two-volume set prepared under the Federal Transit Administration's (FTA) General Technical Assistance Program, to provide guidance to the recipients of FTA funding that are required to test their safety-sensitive employees for drug use and alcohol misuse. This volume discusses "best practices" used by employers to establish and maintain a compliant testing program. The other volume, Implementation Guidelines for Drug and Alcohol Regulations in Mass Transit, explains the regulatory requirements, which were revised in 2001.
